4. Ask a thought-provoking question.

- Have you ever wondered how the money comes out of an ATM?
- What happens to your rubbish after you put it in the rubbish bin?
- Why do stars sparkle in the night sky?

5. Use a sound effect.

- Whoosh! The skyrocket zoomed dangerously close to the power line.
- 'Mmmm,' sighed Daniel as he sipped his first mouthful of hot chocolate.
- Crash! The vase hit the floor as Mia swerved past the table.

6. Start with a quote from a well-known person or an expert on the topic you are writing about.

- 'Eighty-four percent of our animals are born here in the zoo,' commented Dr Alisha Brewer, director of Taronga Park Zoo.
- 'You must put the helmet on, and then check that it is tightly secured under your chin,' advised Constable Noble.

7. Describe a setting.

- The sun shone down on the freshly mown playing field.
- It was a frosty winter's morning, and the clouds threatened rain as the trampers headed into the bush.
